

TINA REDSHAW

INTERNATIONAL ENGAGEMENT MANAGER

✉ wetland.engagement@wwt.org.uk

🌐 wwt.org.uk

PERSONAL PROFILE

Tina heads up WWT's International Engagement Team, working internationally, with strong skills in cross-cultural communication and capacity-building, and deep experience of managing a wide range of stakeholders. Tina is passionate about biodiversity and wetland conservation as well as nature connectivity for wellbeing. Tina is also the Head of Wetland Link International (WLI), a professional network of people working in visitor centres at wetlands, sharing experience and best practice, development of new educational tools, and promoting greater communication and linkages between centres. The network delivers activities on behalf of the Convention on Wetlands' CEPA (communication, education, participation and awareness) programme under an MoU and works through regional networks.

TINA'S EXPERIENCE INCLUDES:

- Solid proven experience in governmental bilateral and multilateral lobbying, advocacy and influencing, gained from a global diplomatic and development career
- Substantial experience in leading and coordinating policy and development programming, including climate change, environment, human rights, gender, education, skills and trade
- Excellent interpersonal skills; proven capacity in building strong stakeholder networks with governments, multi-lateral institutions, business/private sector and NGOs
- Experienced and effective leader of multi-cultural teams, including managing and coordinating remotely across time zones,
- Strong verbal and written communication skills – experienced public speaker and facilitator of capacity building and training programmes internationally
- Deep knowledge of political, socio-economic and cultural context of Cambodia, China and South East Asia – also of ASEAN & other regional multilateral mechanisms; understanding of environment, energy and climate change context in Cambodia, Laos, Vietnam and China
- Experience in individual and institutional fundraising
- Strong language skills in Khmer; Mandarin Chinese; German. Working proficiency in French

EDUCATION

BSc Language and Linguistics, University of York, United Kingdom

British Council 2 year Post-graduate Scholarship – Nanjing University, China

MA in International Development Management, Open University, UK

KEY PROJECTS AT WWT:

Wetland Link International

Wetland Learning Hub Project Manager